Share the Vision — Community Care Center of Protestant Welfare will hold its fifth annual "Share the Vision" banquet and auction fundraiser on Friday, Nov. 18, at 6:30 p.m. at the Granite City Township Hall. Displaying some of the items that will be available, including a Greg Jefferies baseball jersey and a Todd Zeile bat, are, from left: Jean Hileman, Felicia Urioste-Locke, Tina Smith and Maxine Sparks. Music will be provided by Sarah Fielding, Nancy Sanders will serve as mistress of ceremonies and Don Stratton will serve as auctioneer. Tickets are available at the Community Care Center, 1818 Cleveland or by calling 876-8770. Prices are $12.50 for adults and $5 for children.

Journal to include sample of cereal

The Suburban Journals and General Mills are planning to be in the breakfast fast-food on Wednesday.

More than 1.6 million boxes of Wheatus and Sun Crunchers cereals will be distributed Wednesday along with the usual copy of the Journal.

The breakfast-sized samples of the two cereals represent one of the largest product samplings undertaken by a newspaper company. There are 12 tractor-trailer truck-loads of Wheatus and Sun Crunchers awaiting Wednesday's distribution.

Because of the magnitude of the General Mills product sampling, distribution of some newspapers may be slightly delayed.

Be sure to watch for your newspaper on Wednesday. The Journal will provide some fresh news and General Mills will provide the breakfast cereal. All you need to do is add milk.

Referendum ruling revised

Wording too vague: judge

By Bob Slatte
Staff writer

The aldermanic reduction referendum approved by Granite City voters by a two-to-one margin last March 15 was not worded properly, a Madison County judge has ruled.

On Nov. 1, Associate Judge David Herndon ruled that a referendum that reduced to seven from 14 the number of Granite City aldermen was vague, arbitrary and unconstitutional.

But last Monday, Herndon amended his ruling to eliminate the constitutional question.

"The amendment submitted to the voters of Granite City was vague and ambiguous," Herndon wrote in his amended judgment. "This court finds that the referral in the referendum to a repealed statute and the failure to put the proposed number of aldermen in the question created ambiguity and vagueness and was not substantially in the form as the statute requires," Herndon ruled.

The ruling has the effect of throwing the vote on the issue completely. The City Council will continue to have 14 members.

The proposition, as it was worded in the ballot, was based on a repealed statute. The statute actually in effect at the time required the proposition to specifically state the number of aldermen that would result from passage. The actual numbers—a reduction from 14 to seven—did not appear on the ballot.

By statute, if a majority of voters supported the aldermanic question favorably, the entire board of 14 would be thrown out and seven would be elected next

April. In many cases of board reductions—or when redistricting takes place—terms are staggered over a period of time so that they eventually all expire at the same time. For example, the statute contains a provision whereby the seven aldermen seats expiring in November will be elected in two-year terms rather than four-year terms. That way, all 14 seats would expire in 1997 and seven could be elected then.

But the ballot question in Granite City did not cite that provision.

Attorney John Papa, on behalf of Granite City residents Glenn and Thomas, filed a lawsuit against the city challenging the referendum and asking that it be thrown out. The lawsuit argued, in part, that the Judith Bucatch, born and raised in Granite City, was among 90 St. Louis metro area teachers honored with an "Emerson Excellence in Teaching Award" at a ceremony held Oct. 30 at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Clayton. The Emerson Electric Co. Excellence in Teaching Awards program, now in its fourth year, recognizes outstanding teachers for their dedication to the teaching profession.

"The award is a wonderful honor. There are so many deserving teachers," Bucatch said.

"I work with many of them. I guess that's what makes it so meaningful."

Bucatch is a third-year teacher at Holy Family.

In the morning and the eighth grade homeroom in the afternoon.

Bucatch is also involved with several extra-curricular activities, she noted.

"I spend a lot of extra hours doing things like student council, the DARE parade, and I helped organize a bonfire for the junior high students," she said.

She knows all the kids in school because she teaches P.E. classes. She said that while teaching the eighth grade is very challenging, it is also very rewarding.

respect, and I get it right back from them," she said.

Bucatch, and the other honored teachers, were presented with an engraved crystal apple at the ceremony.

"Teachers have one of the most challenging and critical jobs in our society, yet they seldom, if ever, receive the recognition they deserve for their tremendous contributions," said Charles F. Knight, chairman and chief executive officer of Emerson Electric Co.

"We want them to know that we appreciate their outstanding work," he said.

school system for seven.

She also taught some physical education activities classes and some methods courses at the Southern Illinois University-Alton campus, which is also where she attended college.

She said she took eight years off from her profession when she had children because she wanted to be with them during their first 18 months.

"I love teaching, but I was very fortunate to be able to pursue my career on hold while I went home to raise our family," she said.

Her husband, Jim, works at Granite City Steel.

They have one daughter, Jamie, who works for the latchkey after-school program and is a local substitute teacher. Their son, Jason, is in his senior year at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Fireman charged with misconduct retires

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

A Granite City firefighter paramedic has retired rather than face administrative charges filed by the chief.

Greg Hoese, who has about eight years of service with the Granite City fire department, will retire with a disability pension, City Hall said.

Hoese had worked only a couple of days this year. He suffered a shoulder injury in a fall while battling a fire last year.

Hoese was to appear Monday morning before the city's Board of Fire and Police Commissioners and answer to a charge of gross misconduct unbecoming to a firefighter and two counts of violating a "last chance agreement" with the city.

The three count complaint might punishment "up to and including discharge" on each count.

The charges were not dropped. He resigned and it became a moot point.

— Bob Astorian
Board chairman

But the commissioners said Hoese has chosen to retire.

The charges were not dropped. He resigned and it became a moot point, board chairman Bob Astorian said.

Hoese had been in and out of trouble with the law over the past year. Several incidents were reported to or by police — all while Hoese was off duty. Included among them are: Hoese allegedly harassed an on-duty female police officer while she was trying to break up a fight at a tavern last year; Hoese allegedly drove 85 miles per hour in a 35 mile per hour zone on Madison Avenue at 12:16 a.m. Aug. 24 of this year; he allegedly participated in a bar fight brawl at about 1:45 a.m. on Aug. 25 of this year; he allegedly yelled and screamed at 1:46 a.m. Aug. 30 this year while in the front yard of a home in the 2200 block of Grand Avenue.

The "last chance agreement" with the city cited in two of the charges required Hoese to completely renounce his right to sue. While Fire Chief Keith Talley filed administrative charges against Hoese last year in connection with the alleged harassment of a female police officer, those charges were withdrawn when a settlement was negotiated between city officials and the firefighters' union.

O utdoor decorating for the holidays can be something as simple as hanging a wreath on a door or elaborate light display that can be the main attraction of an entire community. There are really no "rules" for it. Everybody does their own thing.

Lights can be seen strung virtually anywhere, from ground-level railings and shrubs all the way up to the peak of the roof. Many people add more and more lights each year.

Today's light sets are vastly improved. In the past, if a bulb burned out, the whole string went dark. Trying to find that one bad bulb in an entire string could ruin anybody's holiday spirit. Nowadays, if a bulb should ever burn out or fail, it's easy to find. All the others stay lit.

When decorating outdoors, make sure you use lights specifically designed for outdoor use. Frank's light sets indicate on the package whether or not they can be used outdoors. Never exceed the recommended amount of lights. In other words, don't try to attach more strings together than the amount stated on the box. And never plug too many strings into one outlet, which could cause an overload and a fire hazard.

Examine each string of lights at the beginning of the season. Be on the lookout for worn or frayed cords. If you see wire peeking out anywhere from inside the rubber cord, it's time to discard it and get a new set of lights.

High lights or low lights? That's entirely up to you. If you're a bit apprehensive about scaling a ladder, remember that you can create a magnificent display of lights at ground level by adorning shrubs, porch railings, doors and the like. Whatever you do, remember that it's safer when the ground's dry, whether you're on a ladder or not.

Wherever you plan on placing lights, try to pick a calm day to do it. Wind can not only make hanging them difficult, it can cause bulbs to bang against the house or each other, resulting in possible breakage. It's always a good idea to have some spare bulbs on hand, just in case.

Stringing lights on outdoor trees is easy, at least it is on smaller ones, and you'll love the effect. For daytime beauty, add garland or tinsel. You may want to secure lights, garland, tinsel, etc. with clips to prevent the wind from blowing them about.

To hang lights from gutters, pick up some hangers designed for that purpose. They snap into place over the gutter and hanging lights from them is simple. With careful removal, they can be used year after year.

A variety of lightable outdoor figures are available at Frank's, and these can really make your home the highlight of the neighborhood. Check them out. They're fantastic!

Another great way to decorate is to adorn lamp posts and/or mailbox posts with festive holiday garland. A lamp post can contain a wreath at the top, with garland spiraling around it all the way to the bottom. If you decide to adorn the mailbox post, there are a couple of things to remember. First, you should not add anything to the mailbox itself. And second, decorations must not hamper the mail carrier in any way whatsoever.

Frame your main entrance with pine or tinsel garland. Add lighting for an extra festive touch.

We'll have a few more ideas in upcoming columns.

S. Roxana offered chipper — if it joins recycling program

Crushed cans, empty bottles and old newspapers may be South Roxana's cost for a wood chipper from Madison County.

Under a plan to encourage South Roxana to participate in the county's recycling program, County Board member Dick Worthen of Alton suggested Thursday tying an $18,350 county grant for a wood chipper to an agreement from the village to steer its recyclables to a county-sponsored sorting facility expected to be built next year. However, South Roxana Mayor Danny Wilcox said the proposal could throw a wrench into the village's curbside recycling.

The village is under contract to funnel its recyclables to the facility at the Laidlaw Waste Systems Inc. landfill in neighboring Roxana for the next two years. Wilcox declined to say how much money or other compensation South Roxana receives from Laidlaw and criticized the county for attempting to interfere in the village's recycling program.

"We're not one of the few communities that has a recycling program in effect. It doesn't make sense that the county would go after us," Wilcox said.

The board's Environmental Control Committee, which Worthen chairs, voted 4-1 yesterday to recommend the tie-in. The committee is expected to hire a consultant to build a sorting plant later this year or early next year. The facility would be fully operational by late 1995, under county plans.

Cans, bottles, newspaper and cardboard from curbside recycling programs around the county would be dropped off at the facility, sorted and readied for shipment to manufacturers who use recyclable materials. If South Roxana agrees to send its recyclables to the county's sorting facility, the overall amount of materials going into the plant would increase substantially and could improve the facility's economic viability, Worthen said.

In addition, tying county grants to municipal officials' promises to cooperate with the county improves the county's ability to carry out recycling and other environmental programs, Worthen suggested.

The (wood chipper) grant is subject to the city agreeing to send its recyclables to the Madison County authorized (sorting facility)," Worthen said. Eight months ago, Worthen attempted to scuttle Roxana's application for a $14,000 county grant to buy a leaf vacuum.

Worthen's opposition was rooted in the village's decision to cut a deal with Laidlaw Waste Systems, Inc. three years ago that helped the company expand its landfill against the wishes of Worthen and other county officials. The Environmental Control Committee rejected his proposal and gave Roxana the grant.

will definitely have trouble. Not only will he not have a voice, his agenda will not be considered. McPike has been leading the opposition for years and they're not going to take kindly to his replacement.

"That's nothing against Steve personally," Tamm said.

Davis argued Republicans are in a position to lead but said he will be interested to see how the new majority handles the power.

"The state is still in a position in debt and it will be interesting to see what they will do to pay it off without raising taxes."

Despite Prehn's assessment, Davis said he will support McPike's bid to Madison County, possibly with an initiative on the April ballot, and introduce an education funding plan promised during the campaign.

"I don't want to fight with the Republicans. I'm going to Springfield to work for my constituents."

Davis said Tuesday's election results were scary.

"It was a great race, but I had my doubts at the end. I was up 17 votes with four precincts left when two or three precincts in Alton came in and put me over," he said.

He said he won Granite City by 60 percent to 40 percent, received half of the votes in Alton and lost his home districts in Wood River Township by about 55 percent to 45 percent.

"Ted is third generation in Bettendorf and when I tore me up there, I was amazed," Davis predicted he will not suffer the same loss in his home township even if Prehn runs again in two years.

Prehn said he has no immediate plans beyond a family vacation and a return to his real estate and development business.

"He is very proud of running a good, clean campaign that stuck to the issues and nearly overturned Democrats in their stronghold," he said.

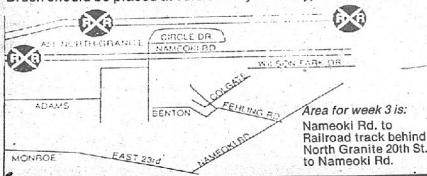

"It energized the citizens of Madison County," Prehn said.

"We proved there clearly is an opportunity for a two-party system, which is the fairest way to govern."

Native American culture inspires dance recital work

Childhood memories of the American Museum of Natural History on New York City's West Side and subsequent choreography inspired by Native American culture have brought Paul Beals to create "Dance in Concert," one of the featured pieces in "Dance in Concert '94" slated at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from Nov. 17 through Nov. 19.

Beals is a member of the SIUE dance faculty, which has annually choreographed the dance event since its inception in the fall of 1980. This year's concert is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 17-19, and at 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 20, in SIUE's James L. Meekall Theater.

And, what makes this year's "Dance in Concert" more challenging for Ms. Beals and the other choreographers — Kerry Jarrell, Debra Leigh, Michael Mizerany, Mary Ann Hund, and Lynn Wenning — is the fact that the concert will be staged in the round at the Metcalf Auditorium.

Dancing before an audience in the round puts various parts of the audience at various viewpoints in regard to the dancers.

"Depending on where audience members sit, they see different perspectives of the dance than an audience member in another location," said Jarrell, professor of theater and dance at SIUE and director of dance for that department.

"We've never done a 'Dance in Concert' in the round at SIUE; in the ten years I've been here and before that when I was a student here, we've sat in a very round to choreograph it; it's a totally different way of looking at dance, requiring a different approach to space. But it's also very exciting; it primes the cre-

Tickets for "Dance in Concert" are $6; senior citizens and students, SIUE faculty and staff, $4.50.

For reservations, call the SIUE School of Fine Arts Box Office, 692-2774.

Residents attend Marine Band concert

Maxine Green covers the Granite City and Nameoki Township area for the Press-Republican. She can be contacted at 931-6296.

Maxine Green

The President's Own United States Marine Band, on its 1994 National Concert Tour, performed at the University of Missouri at St. Louis, on Oct. 11. Several Granite-City area residents attended the one-night performance.

The special Marine Band was founded in 1798 and its primary mission has been to provide music for the president of the United States and commandant of the Marine Corps appearing at White House more than 200 times annually.

On New Year's Day 1801, the Marine Band, invited by President John Adams, made its debut at the newly-constructed executive mansion. In March the band performed for the inauguration of Thomas Jefferson and has performed for every presidential inauguration since. Adams gave the band its charter and Jefferson gave the Marine Band its title "The President's Own."

Marine Band musicians are sent to basic training, physical examinations. Musicians enlist in the Marine Corps under a four-year contract for duty with the U.S. Marine Band only and are immediately promoted to the rank of staff sergeant (E-6). They report to Washington, D.C., to begin their duties with on-site training in necessary military subjects.

Performing with the 65-person band from Granite City is Ssgt. Jihoon Chang and GySgt. Charles H. Willett of Alton. There are several others from Illinois.

The director is Colonel John R Bourgeois of New Orleans. The assistant is Captain Dennis R. Burton of Allentown, Pa.

The order of the program is "The Picadore," "Overture to

Cards hot topic at soccer games

When the Southwestern Conference decided to award a point for a winless season in soccer this season, there was some doubt as to the merits of such things as awarding one point for a yellow card and two for a red.

"This may not be the answer," said Granite City High athletic director Greg Patton prior to the season. "But it's a start."

AT THE RECENT super-sectional, though, Patton was pleased with the season-long effort of the conference to even things out.

"I think the highest total for any team was 18 points," Patton said of the number reached by Alton and Collinsville.

It was impossible to add how many players were forced to sit out a game for accumulating four points, but the league continued to apply a rule adopted a few years ago that forced players to sit out due to a red card.

Whether involved in a conference game or the Granite City match, both the area's best teams were clean play since the Warriors did not get a card during the month of October.

By coincidence, the super-sectional from which Granite City advanced to state featured more talk about cards than anything else due to the presence of Springfield High.

THE SENATORS closed the season at 20-3-2, but were missing three starters and a reserve in the 1-0 loss due to Springfield Phil Eck's rule against red cards.

En route to the super-sectional, the Senators amassed four red cards, and Eck refused to budge on his rule of sitting out players for two games.

In the super-sectional, Eck continued to see red as Paul Phales, a senior starter, was ejected with 20:58 remaining for an altercation with Granite City's Matt Little.

The loss of a player added to Springfield's demise, as it took away the possibility of another marker on Granite City's Shawn Petroski who got the game's only goal on a breakaway with 10 minutes left.

A super-sectional finalist and losing team in the last four seasons, Springfield will return several key players for next season, including sophomore midfielders Jeff Ambrose, who missed Petroski. However, until the Senators add the number of cards they receive in games, I doubt they will appear in this area unless they advance in the post-season.

Among the schools to drop Springfield after the expiration of contracts in recent years are Belleville West and O'Fallon. It also is not clear if the St. Louis schools for years have sought entry into the prestigious Granite City Tournament of Champions, but have been refused.

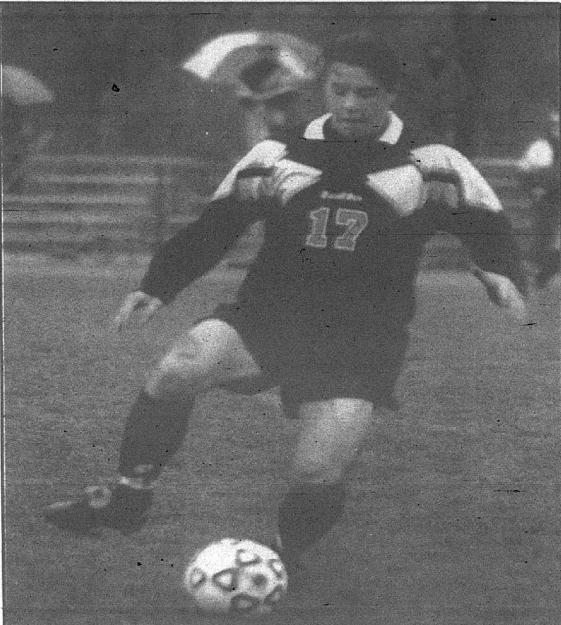

OVERTIME: While Granite City was 20 seconds short of winning its first state soccer crown last weekend, the second-place finish for the Warriors will not mark the end of recognition for the school this year.

Coach Gene Baker deserves Coach of the Year honors in the state, and Petroski deserves All-American recognition.

Petroski scored Granite City's goal in the 2-1 loss to Palatine in the finals, and finished with an amazing 43 goals for the season. Petroski also scored a spectacular goal to help the Warriors pull out a 3-0 deficit in the quarterfinals against St. Charles for a 3-2 win. He scored the only goal in a 1-0 semifinal win over Chicago Kelly.

Both the Granite City and Palatine teams both earned No. 1 seeds in the postseason, but the Chicago-area team got a break at state in playing Orland Park Sandburg in the final. Palatine won that game, 2-1. Sandburg had been seeded No. 3 in its sectional.

GCHS kept title hopes alive in win over Saints

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

The Granite City soccer team's drive to the state title ended in heartbreaking fashion last weekend when Palatine engineered a stunning comeback to defeat the Warriors in overtime.

But Granite City was on the opposite end the day before in a thrilling state quarterfinal victory over St. Charles at Fremd High School.

In perhaps Granite City's best performance of the season, the Warriors came back from a 2-0 deficit to stun off-station Palatine and force overtime before winning on penalty kicks to advance to the tournament semifinals.

ST. CHARLES, RANKED first among teams in the Chicago area, appeared on a path toward its first-ever state title after getting second-half goals from Bob Alton and Tom Hickey. The Fighting Saints had won 16 straight games and were picked by the Chicago Tribune to win the tournament.

A 20-minute delay with less than 20 minutes to play is usually a bad sign for a team facing elimination. Hickey's goal with 19:20 to play seemed to be the final nail in the coffin for the Saints.

But the momentum changed quickly when senior striker Shawn Petroski shook off two defenders and fired a shot past St. Charles goalie Anders Uhlskov to cut the lead in half. Petroski's goal, his 40th of the season, came with 16:25 to play and book the post-season GCHS record set by Granite City's South's Greg Feigl in 1977.

But Petroski — and the Warriors — weren't quite through yet. After Uhlskov had prevented the next attempt by St. Charles' striker Steve Ball.

Bucherich missed Granite City's next attempt, but Baker presented the ball to him after Petroski slid a pass to senior Phil Krahembuhl on St. Charles' (See HOPES, Page 3B)

Kicking back Warriors reflect on dream season

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

It was a season full of accomplishments that featured a second-place finish in the Illinois state tournament, a record-breaking goal by Shawn Petroski and coach Gene Baker's 50th career victory.

The Warrior soccer team cleared almost every hurdle this fall in its run to the state tournament and came within 20 seconds of winning an 11th Illinois state championship before closing the year 23-4.

A title seemed to be the perfect ending for the Warriors this season, given their march through the postseason and a dramatic victory over St. Charles in the state quarterfinals. But Granite City's second-place finish was just one of several firsts that seemed to follow the team all season.

WHEN THE WARRIOR defeated archrival Collinsville for the sectional championship Oct. 29, it marked the first postseason victory over the Kahoks since 1990. The win also carried the Warriors to their first state tournament appearance since 1990.

When the Kahoks lost to Palatine in the state championship game Nov. 5, it marked the Warriors' first loss to an Illinois team all season. And when Petroski netted his 40th goal of the season against St. Charles, breaking Greg Feigl's 17-year-old record, it marked the first time a Granite City player had reached the 40-goal barrier in one season.

Baker, who came just short of winning his 10th state title with Granite City, earned the 50th career win when the Warriors defeated Triad for a regional title on Oct. 25. It was just one of several milestones the Warriors reached in their 22nd season under Baker.

"It was a wonderful year," Baker said. "It's fun to work with kids when they work hard. I thought they were a dynamic team by far of the year. They had a lot of charisma and you could feel the electricity out there when they were playing. They had their roles figured out and I was real happy."

The Warriors were a senior-dominated team led by the Bad Fly, a senior player of great energy as a sophomore and spent three years playing on the varsity level: Petroski, Matt Little, John Nizinski, Paulie Bucherich and Corey

THE FIVE PLAYERS represented a talented, experienced nucleus. Petroski was the team's offensive leader, but King was the defense star at sweeper and a deep group of seniors rounded out a strong, versatile lineup.

"Each team has a different chemistry," Baker said. "Some of the different alumni told me they had it. They showed the heart and they had the skill."

The Warriors had plenty of skill to go on. Petroski scored in bunches, posting a hat trick and a total of 43 goals to finish as the leading scorer in the St. Louis area. The 6-2, 200-pound striker earned All-State honors and proved unstoppable in several games.

But consider Jeff Little, a Division I prospect and perhaps the metropolitan area's finest player, had the most talented striker in GCHS history.

"He's the best ever as a target player," Baker said. "He's been the best at what he does. He had some great-looking goals this year."

PETROSKI LED THE way to victories over Vianney, St. Louis U. High and St. Charles. But the offensive leaders also included Little, who had 11 goals and 15 assists; Bucherich, who recuperated from offseason knee surgery and had six goals and two assists; junior Austin McMillian, JUNIOR HIGH SPIKERS in the Madison County Conference are never far from play, but each of the Grigsby Junior High volleyball teams had successful seasons this fall.

King said a combination of balanced scoring, serving were the 6th graders' strengths.

IHSA changes stance on weight classes in wrestling

By R.J. Gerber
Staff writer

The Illinois High School Association has reversed an earlier decision to alter the 13 weight classes in high school wrestling and area coaches couldn't be happier.

A strong outcry from coaches is responsible for the change, which nullifies a move made last June. A spokesperson for IHSA Assistant Executive Director Marty Hickman said there was an overwhelming response to the proposal.

The IHSA had planned to change the former weight classes of 103, 112, 119, 125, 130, 135, 140, 145, 152, 160, 171, 189 and 275 pounds to 100, 106, 112, 119, 126, 134, 142, 151, 160, 172, 185, 215 and 275.

The IHSA was acting on a decision made by the National Federation of Wrestling Rules and Regulations to reduce the number of weight classes in high school wrestling to 12.

But after numerous coaches took exception to the year's changes, the IHSA reversed itself. Supposedly, the changes will be instituted nationally in 1995.

One coach who was strongly opposed to the new classes was Granite City High School coach Mark Kristoff, who sent a letter to the IHSA in May.

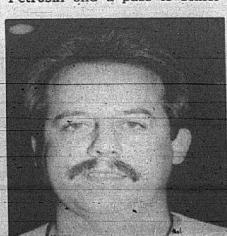

"I'm pleased with the change. I never thought they should have changed it," Kristoff said. "Most high school wrestlers are between 120 and 150 pounds. That just would have eliminated two middleweights."

The Warriors, who qualified as a team for the state tournament, had a 12-man lineup this season — another reason Garland was against the alterations.

"It doesn't make any sense," he said. "Everyone wanted to like the old weights. You would have had to change that and would have eliminated a couple guys that were sectionals qualified a year ago. We would have had a logjam."

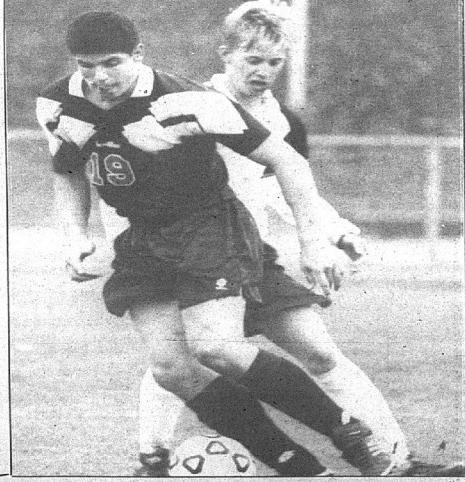

First-year Cahokia High coach Mark Kristoff, who assumed command of the IHSA's reversal, "like it," Kristoff said. "We're accustomed to the 103-275 classes. We might as well stay with the old way. Eight out of 10 times, that 103 class is filled with freshmen and sophomores."

PALATINE — The Granite City soccer team will remember 1994 as the year it had its 11th straight all but won. The Warriors survived a driving rainstorm and a field coated with mud and had the Palatine Pirates down 1-0 and on the ropes nearly 60 minutes in the Illinois state championship game Nov. 5 at Fremd High School.

But on a night more suited for indoor soccer, the Warriors came just short. A goal with 20 seconds left in regulation tied the score, forced overtime and swung the momentum Palatine's way.

The Pirates got a quick goal in overtime to defeat the Warriors and complete one of the most stunning comebacks in state tournament history. Palatine's 2-1 victory at Fremd was the first by an Illinois team against Granite City all season.

The Warriors, the winningest program in the state, had already won the title quickly from their grasp. Granite City was gunning for its first championship since 1990.

It was Granite City's first loss in a state title game and the first state soccer title won by Palatine. The Warriors ended the season 23-4, and the Pirates ended the year 25-2.

But the search for the state title was more than just about winning and losing. For 20 Warriors, it marked a career milestone and the culmination of a season that peaked on at midnight on Monday, Aug. 15.

One of the Warriors' goals back then as they practiced on their home field at Granite City High School, The Gauntlet, was to be the first Illinois soccer team on a high school field and the last one off.
